PLAUDITS

... go out to every person who joined the working force to produce the big annual Wild Game Dinner Saturday night sponsored by the Hondo Chamber of Commerce at Hondo City Park.

Despite some conflicts, like the D'Han-is-Chilton game in San Marcos, the Bander-a-Brackettville game here in Hondo, and two big local weddings, some 700 hungry eaters went through the chow line.

"Such a successful undertaking could never be accomplished without the tremendous amount of volunteer help given by so many people," said Chamber of Commerce President Bud Woolls. "I couldn't possibly begin to name them all for fear I would leave someone out, but they know who they are and can accept our heartfelt appreciation in helping make this Chamber event so successful."

Saturday night I was promised the recipe to Leon Mangold's chili(?), stew(?), but by the time George Koch and a few others got through helping with the ingredients, I'm sure it would be impossible to come up with an accurate recipe. But it was good!

ALL EXPERT SHOOTERS

... and those who only think they are expert, will have the opportunity Sunday to "take home a turkey" at the annual Turkey Shoot being sponsored by the Hondo Lions Club and the Medina County Gun Club.

The bang-up event, which will feature Shotgun Luck, Breakable Targets and Running Deer, gets underway at 1 p.m. at the Hondo Rifle Range on the West Side of Hondo Airbase.

To get there you go out Highway 90 to Medina Agriculture Products and turn right. Up the road a piece, about three-quarters of a mile--you find the firing line.

It's for a good cause and you might even get a turkey to take home for Christmas.

SIGNING UP

... for the Hondo Chamber of Commerce as members have been the following this past week: New--Glenn Ditmar, Franklin Muennink, Floyd Hill, County Agent Glenn Bragg; Past Members Re-pledging--Julius Aelvoet, Mrs. Luella Schweers, Hondo Sears (Henry Nietenhoefer), Henry Martin Finger, Morris S. Shelton, Henry Stiegler (he signed up sometime ago and we left him out of last week's list), Edward Hilsher (McDowell principal), and Clarence Schweers (he got left off last week's list also).

We invite any chamber member to join us Friday morning at 7 a.m. at Frontier Restaurant to help with a personal contact membership drive.

Our goal is more than 200 members and we can do it with your help!

A DRAMATIC INCREASE

... has been noted in the number of museums in Texas according to a letter in Sunday's Texas Star. A reader wanted to know the reason for such an increase, and Wanda Campbell of The Star obtained the answer from Dan Traverso, a practicing artist and museum consultant of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

Traverso is involved in providing assistance to museums throughout the state and he thinks there are several forces at work to cause the proliferation of museums, which are, at base, educational institutions.

We felt that since the Medina County Museum has started here and is gaining interest from far and near this answer might be enlightening to local and area residents:

"People have become increasingly aware," Traverso points out, "that at the moment there are remnants of the way of life that formed them, but these remnants are quickly disappearing. So if the culture that produced the people of Texas is not preserved now, it will likely be lost. People are responding to this urgency by forming museums, where the things unique to Texas and to an earlier era may be experienced by others."

"As our nation becomes increasingly rootless, people look to their historical origins. This is happening when the public has

Membership drive kicks off Friday

Running a blitz is usually left for the linebackers on a football team, but Friday morning members of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce plan a one-day blitz to enroll new members for the upcoming year.

Directors and members, some 40 strong it is hoped, will meet for a 7 a.m. Dutch treat breakfast at the New Frontier Restaurant and after the eating, will spread over town to enroll chamber members.

"We are shooting for a goal of more than 200 members this year," drive chairman Burnis Lawrence said. "The 1972 membership reached approximately 154, and we believe that 200 is not an unrealistic goal."

Friday morning workers will divide into teams of two and take five or six potential members. They will be contacted that day and the results given to Mrs. Lillian Porter at the chamber office.

She in turn will give them to Radio Station KRME and the results will be aired periodically. The first three teams to finish will receive a prize.

"This marks the first time in several years that a personal contact drive has been made in Hondo," Lawrence said. "We have good interest in the drive from those persons contacted to work, so we feel we will have no trouble in going over the 200 mark."

The chairman also said that anyone interested in helping on this drive Friday morning are invited to be at the New Frontier at 7 a.m. "We can use all the help we can get," he said.

"And we certainly can use every member we obtain for 1973," he added. "The year ahead should be a fruitful one for Hondo and the Chamber of Commerce wants to be right in there making every effort it can. This will take money, energy and time. So come join us in building our city."

SEND CUSTOMERS YOUR THANKS

There is nothing nicer than sending a card at Christmas wishing everyone a Merry Christmas and a prosperous, happy New Year.

This is especially true where businessmen wish to say "thanks" to all their customers for their patronage.

Today the cost of buying, addressing and mailing that many cards is almost prohibitive.

However, the Anvil Herald has a less expensive way to reach your customers. Send them greetings through the Christmas and New Year greeting sections.

Anvil Herald is now taking orders for such advertising and personnel will be around contacting businesses and individuals during the next few weeks.

New program to hit screwworms

By Glenn Bragg
Medina County Extension Agent

Screwworm infestations continue to be a serious problem in Medina County and over much of the state. Livestock owners are urged to inspect and treat all animal wounds, says County Extension Agent Glenn Bragg.

"Although colder temperatures are beginning to slow down screwworm activities in Medina County and certain other areas of the state, our county has not yet recorded sufficient prolonged cold to stop the troublesome livestock pest," he adds.

A short cold snap will cause the flies to become inactive for a time, but as the temperatures rise the flies again become a problem. Several successive days and nights of sub-freezing or near freezing temperatures are necessary to deal a crippling blow to the screwworm flies, according to Bragg.

Livestock owners therefore will need to continue their vigilance against new screwworm outbreaks. "It's still important to collect samples of all cases and send them to the Mission Screwworm Eradication Laboratory for identification," Bragg emphasized. "Effective November 27, all cases reported in Medina County will be 'hot spotted'. This is to say all cases will be treated individually when a positive screwworm sample is received by Mission Laboratories.

"It's particularly important that Mission officials know where screwworms may survive this time of year so they can be treated and eliminated before next spring," Bragg pointed out.

The current screwworm outbreak began reaching epidemic proportions in the spring and has continued through the summer and fall. Texas recorded 1,832 cases during the week ending November 11. At mid-November, total screwworm confirmations in the southwestern states reached the 94,173 mark, an all-time record. Medina County has recorded approximately 2700 cases for the year, an estimated 10% of the actual cases. Last week Medina County reported 32 cases, second to the highest number reported from any one county in the state. Texas had 89,587 cases by that date, with only 3,186 non-screwworm samples being processed at the Mission Lab this year.

Cumulative totals for 1972 on November 15 showed Arizona with 2,208 cases; New Mexico, 1,253; Oklahoma, 1,035; California, 18; Arkansas, 6; Kansas, 3; Florida, 2; and Louisiana, 1.

Dr. Arleigh Templeton is 'man of decision'

Dr. Arleigh B. Templeton, President of the new University of Texas at San Antonio, will tell how the new school will affect this area when he delivers the principal speech at the Hondo Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet Monday night.

Dr. Templeton is now and always has been a man who could make the tough decisions.

Making the difficult decisions that lead to a higher quality of education has been Dr. Templeton's life work. He has never dodged a controversial issue. Texas educators know him as a man who studies the facts, takes a firm stand and assumes responsibility for the outcome.

This trait is what has made Dr. Templeton so effective in his present role as President of the new University of Texas at San Antonio.

He has been able to provide the strong leadership that is essential to the shaping of an institution.

When Dr. Templeton accepted the position with UTSA in 1970, his work was cut out for him. He was to build--from the ground up--a university which would serve both undergraduate and graduate students almost from its inception.

Dr. Templeton began the job of building a campus which will accommodate 10,000 students when it opens and which is expected to be serving 17,500 students by 1980. An equally important undertaking for him has been developing the academic programs which will make UTSA a university of national eminence.

While the date for the opening of the campus has not yet been set (construction began last May), Dr. Templeton will see the first fruits of his labor this summer. In June 1973 UTSA will hold its first graduate classes in temporary facilities.

Degree programs available in 1973-74 will include concentrations such as bicultural studies, bilingual teacher education, English as a second language, bilingual medical interpreting and three environmental management concentrations. A mathematics and systems design program which will teach not only math but computer applications will be the first of its kind in the country. Long needed and highly innovative, many of the degree programs will serve as models for other institutions.

Dear Burnis--

I mentioned to you the article in "Brainstorms" Newsletter about the success of cooperative effort in a small town. It reads--

"Results when you encourage people to Brag"

"When business and community spirit was lagging in Bartlesville, Okla. local businessmen got together to give the community a lift. They devised a "Brag-a-little"--Bartlesville" campaign. Billboards, newspaper ads, counter cards, lapel buttons, bumper stickers were made. The promotional effort rubbed off on the community and brought in a good deal of business from residents of surrounding communities who wanted to know what Bartlesville had going for it. In fact, we're told that a major manufacturer opened a plant in the community as a result of the newly developed local pride."

Couldn't this idea be borrowed by a lovely "Texas" town and use "Brag a lot--Hondo"? Perhaps the "CC" could drop a line or two to Bartlesville Chamber of Commerce and find out how this was one, and if it could be borrowed.

Although we (Russell and

D) aren't natives, or a resident (yet), we have a much stronger feeling for Hondo than we ever have had for our hometown. There is just something special about the friendly folks we've met there that seem to make you feel at home!

We would be proud to "Brag a lot--Hondo, Tex"! Passing this idea along in the hope it might be the beginning of something--B.G.

Dear Mr. Lawrence:

As I look back on the results of November 7, I realize that such an overwhelming victory would not have been possible without the strong support we had from editorial endorsements across the nation.

I cannot find words adequate to express my appreciation. I can assure you, however, that I shall do everything I can over the next four years to make a record all Americans, regardless of party, can be proud of as we celebrate our 200th Birthday.

With best wishes,

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"Wul shore, ridin' a brahmer bull you've gotta be brave, but goin' to the moon on a rocket made by the lowest bidder, you've gotta really be brave!"

December 31 is the deadline for owners of advertising signs along major interstate, U.S. and state-numbered highways to apply for permits under the new Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The act is designed to control all outdoor advertising from big billboards to fence signs along the right-of-way line.

It requires that no sign can be erected within 660 feet of an interstate or federal-aid primary highway without a special $25 outdoor advertising license. An additional $5 permit is also required for each sign.

On-premise signs -- those advertising activities on the land or offering the property for sale -- are exempt.

The law, passed and made effective last June 29 to avoid loss of federal road-building aid, will be implemented in stages.

License applications, first stage in the process, must be accompanied by a $2,500 bond for each county in which signs are located up to a $10,000 maximum for owners with signs in more than three counties.

Permits will be issued for signs in place prior to June 29 whether they conform to the law or not, and these will be allowed to stay in place until programmed for acquisition or removal. New signs must conform to the law before permits are issued.

The Highway Department also has begun removal of abandoned and illegal signs on controlled highways.

Those planning to erect new signs on controlled highways are advised to check with Highway Department district offices to determine if the location conforms to the law. Property owners have also been advised to contact the department's district offices concerning signs located on their land without permission.

LEGISLATORS BRIEFED
State legislators received briefings last week on three major issues to confront them in January.

A pre-session legislative conference at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs of the University System here provided details on:

-- Need for judicial reorganization. The court system was termed a hodgepodge of independent operations with "nobody minding the whole store".

-- Federal revenue sharing and its impact on state and local finance. Legislators were advised Congress and taxpayers will be looking over their shoulders to see that new federal windfalls are wisely spent.

-- Property taxation and school finance. Major overhauls in the system of financing public education and in property tax administration are needed, tax authorities said.

CANDIDATES SPEND MILLIONS

U.S. Sen. John Tower and Governor-elect Dolph Briscoe spent a record $5 million in their campaigns.

Tower, best financed congressional candidate in the country, reported expenditures of $2.6 million.

Briscoe reported he spent $2.4 million.

Tower's Democratic opponent, Barefoot Sanders, said he spent $625,674. Briscoe's Republican opponent, State Sen. Henry Grover, reported outlays of $1.2 million.

more leisure and is far better informed than ever before. And people look for leisure activities which not merely entertain, but contribute to a person's development. The museum, whether it be historical, artistic, or whatever, is admirably suited to do this," he concludes.

AND ON THE SUBJECT

. . . of museums perhaps the following article from the Huntsville (Texas) Item would tend to show that planners of the Medina Museum are on the right track by converting the old SP Depot into an historical attraction:

"Railroads in Texas have played an important and romantic role in the economic development of Texas and today continue to be of economic importance to the Lone Star State. The State boasts some interesting railroad museums. These museums tell visitors the story of early railroading in Texas.

"In Jefferson the visitor will find the Jay Gould Railroad Car. Dubbed the 'Atlanta', this car was once owned by the Gould family and its plush interior follows the traditional love of luxury set by Gould. The spacious living quarters include four staterooms, lounge, dining room, kitchen, butler's pantry and a bathroom.

"The Texas Railroad Museum in Weatherford exhibits such items as a private presidential car from the Texas Pacific line, a vintage steam engine, a New Orleans streetcar and a cable car from San Francisco.

"Dallas State Fair Park presents the Age of Steam Museum depicting a nostalgic look at the golden age of railroading.

"Haskell Railroad Museum in Haskell offers superb railroad artifacts among other historical items. Haskell's museum is housed in a railroad depot of 1906.

"An old two-story brick station in Teague is now a museum with a variety of relics from the railroad heyday. Labeled the Burlington-Rock Island Railroad Museum, it also features county historical items. In 1935 the Burlington-Rock Island Company presented to Texans the first streamline passenger train in the state, the 'Sam Houston Zephyr', which ran between Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

"One of the newer, but most complete of the museums, is at Dickinson. It is housed in a refurbished station which is one of the most unique in the state.

"Visitors will enjoy the unique exhibits at Live Steam Museum in the town of Alamo. The educational display features all types of steam engines and pumps and all are in running condition. Engine sizes range from 9,000 pounds to a Japanese miniature that can be held in your hand.

"In the small Texas community of Cresson the visitor will find Pate Museum of Transportation. An antique railroad car is just one of the museum's attractions which include aircraft, stagecoaches, wagons and automobiles.

"A large room of the Texarkana Union Station has the only known model railroad operating in two states. The unique little railway wins the honor because the station in which it operates is bisected by the Texas-Arkansas line."

SHORT SNORTS

A bill providing for semi-monthly payment of state employees and a constitutional amendment to control proliferation of water districts have been pre-filed in the Senate.

Dr. Arleigh Templeton

Templeton is most familiar with. Every school district or college with which he has been associated has gained a reputation for being progressive as a result of Dr. Templeton's work there.

At the age of 19 and just out of Sam Houston State Teachers College, Dr. Templeton began his teaching career with considerable zeal and enthusiasm at Willow Hole High School.

Taking on oversized endeavors has always been the norm for him. In addition to serving as principal, Dr. Templeton taught Algebra I, English at all four grade levels and the first two Spanish courses ever offered at that school. He also coached football, basketball (they won district his first year), baseball, and track.

Dr. Templeton is well known also for his work in Alvin where he was superintendent of schools and President of Alvin Junior College from 1954 to 1963. "This man is doing big things for education," Dean M. C. Huntley of Auburn University said on a visit to Texas in 1963.

"Every college and university in the South is watching him," And no wonder. While at Alvin, Dr. Templeton implemented programs which had first grade students solving algebraic equations and reading up to 150 books a term. Sixth graders were studying analytic geometry and high school students could take five years of foreign language.

Dr. Templeton was known as an administrator who puts teachers first. For example, when one French teacher was dissatisfied with the texts available, she wrote her own French book, which Dr. Templeton issued and which later was copy-righted by the University of Houston.

In November, 1963, Dr.

Templeton was appointed by Texas Governor John Connally as Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. His efforts in this capacity resulted in the creation ultimately of the Coordinating Board for the Texas College and University System and long-range blueprints for development of a first class higher education system in Texas.

In 1964 Dr. Templeton was named President of Sam Houston State Teachers College. Here it became clear that his reputation for successfully implementing innovative programs was well deserved. Some 289 outdated courses were dropped from the curriculum and almost 400 modernized courses were added. Dr. Templeton also helped to establish the Institute of Contemporary Corrections and the Behavioral Sciences, the largest graduate and undergraduate program of its kind in the U.S.

Dr. Templeton's credentials are impressive. In addition to a Bachelor of Science degree from Sam Houston, he holds Master of Education and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Houston. His background includes not only 30 years in Texas public education, but three years as a Navy Lieutenant during World War II and two years in personnel management in a refining corporation.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools elected Dr. Templeton to serve as President in 1966. He also has been Chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Dyslexia and Related Reading Disorders and Chairman of the Texas Advisory Council for Language Handicapped Children. Dr. Templeton was active on the Governor's Criminal Justice Council.

which implements the Federal Omnibus Crime Control Act.

But what about the man himself? He grew up on a farm in New Waverly where cattle drives and breaking horses were part of a day's work. He is an athletic man who played semi-pro basketball. And he relishes any activity--especially bird hunting--which brings him outdoors.

Dr. Templeton thrives on the challenge of building a new university. He can be found in his office at 7 a.m. on many mornings. He listens intently and talks forcefully. He is always busy. He is a man who gets things done.

Yet no matter how full Dr. Templeton's schedule is, he will find time to talk with someone who needs to see him. In any conversation it is apparent that Dr. Templeton likes people--especially young people--and is interested in what they are doing and thinking. He is known for the many discussions which took place in the cafeteria at Sam Houston where the University President frequently ate lunch with students.

Despite his remarkable career in education, Dr. Templeton feels his work is just beginning. He is a man who has found himself with a great responsibility, and who takes pride in his ability to live up to it.

Shop carefully

BY GAYE BIPPET
MEDINA COUNTY HD AGENT

It is important to shop carefully and wisely when purchasing electric household appliances.

Just as fashions change, so do small appliances to keep abreast of new convenience products and push-button living, according to Mrs. Gaye Bippet, County Extension Agent.

If you are considering appliances for your favorite homemaker this holiday season, you may like to review the following points when making your decisions.

It is usually wise to choose an appliance that is made by a reputable manufacturer who will provide assurance of product quality and lasting performance.

"Consider the design of the appliance," the agent advises. It should be easy to take care of and the controls should be clearly marked and easy accessible.

The Underwriter's Laboratories registered symbol should be visible to assure adequate standards of safety.

It is usually best to buy a brand that can be serviced within a reasonable distance of your home.

Storage of the appliance should be considered. Can it be stored with the parts so that it will be easily accessible?

Next week desirable features for blenders will be discussed for holiday shoppers.

This week
All she wrote

The calendar says (and who's to dispute a calendar?) that tomorrow ushers in the month of December when the Zodiac signs of Sagittarius and Capricorn are supposed to rule the destinies of folks who were first introduced to the facts of life anywhere from Nov. 22 to Jan. 19 and including the two dates of the 21st-22nd in this last month of a year that was brand new only eleven months ago.

In just three weeks, give or take a couple of days, another Christmas will have come full circle. Herewith my wishes that yours may be a blessed, long-to-be-remembered one.

This is one way to include another reminder that Hondo's Empty Stocking Fund is still in need of all the reinforcements it can get. You know what happens to the best of good intentions too long delayed.

MARY RUTH CAMERON has a secret formula for stretching ESF dollars much farther than the average Santa representative. Before you have time to forget, how about mailing your contribution right now? Box 85, Hondo.

Last week SUSAN (Mrs. Robert) McGARITY was in town and called me for an ear-to-ear report on the old home town.

If "A merry heart doeth good like medicine", Susan is my favorite "prescription". Since she became a Hondoan, she has been a tireless worker in many civic and welfare projects that have contributed to the betterment of our community.

Oklahoma is the state which is credited with growing "corn as high as an elephant's eye".

A Corpus Christi resident, H. H. PORTER, grows sugar cane at least 9 feet tall and annually distributes the entire crop "to little boys because sugar cane seems made to order for them".

Local Boy Scouts will be recipients of this year's crop which is said to be yielding a harvest of "at least a couple of thousand canes". How sweet THAT can be!

EDNA (Mrs. E. M.) NESTER had told me earlier in the season that the pecan trees in her yards were "outdoing themselves" this season.

Not only that but Edna, thoughtful person that she is, sent me a big bag full of the matured nuts to prove her prediction. They are plump and round and very flavorful. I foresee praline goodies ahead.

A former Hondoan now on temporary "hospital vacation" here is IDA (Mrs. Jack) SHARP. When I received a card from her telling me about it, I recognized her beautiful script on the address before I even read the message.

Since then we have had two good phone visits and Ida's cheerful philosophy is not letting her down an inch. An amazing little person, her life has touched those of countless Medina Countians who learned to dot their i's & cross their t's and to "pronounce their Wees from their Vubble-yous" as a determined and dedicated mother (with such problems of her own) requested me to "learn my boy so he should say right" in the long ago days when it was my privilege to be a "school marm". Happy memories!

It will soon be time for Hondoans to enter the annual Christmas decorating contest. I have heard via the you-know-how-news-travels that several residents are planning real surprise displays.

Some years ago, many residences featured the traditional "luminarias", a custom credited to early Spanish settlers who used small bonfires to herald the birth of the Christ Child.

Many cities in the state of New Mexico continue the cultural custom and I remember that at least several Hondo neighborhoods still do. This might be a good year to encourage city-wide observance again in the spirit of Good Will toward Men . . . We could use second helpings of that.

With buying temptations surrounding us at this special gift-giving season, this advice (gleaned from my reading) seems timely: "The safest way to double your money is to fold it over once and put it back in your pocket."

Leon's Seed Co.
spreads 50' swath

A business dedicated exclusively to producing and applying liquid fertilizers is Leon's Seed and Fertilizer, Inc.

They can provide any analysis of fertilizer and apply it in any amount per acre, thanks to an application rig which Leon and his three associates, Justin Jungmann, Milton Tschirhart, and Mike Perales, designed and built themselves.

Built around a Dodge truck chassis, the rig can cover 35 acres per hour on special flotation tires for diminished soil compaction. Out of the twin booms sprays a 50' swath of fertilizer, marked at both ends with dye markers to prevent skips and overlaps.

Around Castroville, and as far away as La Vernia, the rig has been used for small grains—oats and wheat, coastal bermuda, and for stubble-treating corn and milo to speed stalk deterioration.

For row crops, the nozzles are made to fit 36" rows. Leon's has been in business in Castroville for 12 years now, and they still serve their customers' fertilizer needs quickly and efficiently.

Women's luncheon planned

The Medina County Home Demonstration Club Council sponsored a salad luncheon and style show on Tuesday, October 24, at the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Devine.

Serving began at 11:30 a. m. An appetizing buffet of meat, vegetable and fruit salads had been prepared by the members of the four clubs in the county, and those were served with crackers and ice tea or coffee to a crowd of 150 persons. Among the guests were members of the Devine Lions Club. The tables were decorated with colorful fall arrangements of leaves, peppers and dried fruits.

To highlight the luncheon a style show was presented after everyone had been served. First to model were 20 girls from the Devine 4-H Club modeling garments made in club for district competition.

Beautiful stereophonic music was provided by Leon Humphreys and Dick Darr. The activities were concluded by the awarding of five door prizes.

In addition to the style show guests enjoyed browsing through the small Bazaar of items donated by individuals in the four clubs for sale. The sale of these items made $95 for the Council.

The event was termed a success and plans are already being discussed for next year's event.

All Council members are asked to attend a called meeting of the Council on Monday, Nov. 27. The meeting will be held at 2 p. m. in the conference room of the new Devine City Building.

Eagle Scouts now eligible for group

SAN ANTONIO--Men who have achieved the rank of Eagle Scout are now eligible to join the new National Eagle Scout Association, according to Herbert J. Wilkins, Scout Executive of the Alamo Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Wilkins explained the new association provides the opportunity for all Eagle Scouts in the 13-County Area Council, including Medina and Hondo, regardless of age, race, creed, or economic status to retain an association with Scouting through service to the local councils in which they live.

Nationally, of the 52 million members of the Boy Scouts of America since 1910, there have been over 700,000

Eagle Scouts. About 31,000 earned the award last year.

"When a boy earns the Eagle award and as he grows into adulthood, he wants to continue his active involvement with the national movement that has provided many of his most enjoyable experiences," Wilkins said.

"He maintains the many fine friendships he's made with other Scouts and leaders and wants new experiences that will enable him to meet and enjoy additional friends of Scouting. Through the National Eagle Scout Association, the boy or man can reaffirm his pledge of service to others through Scouting."

D'Hanis FHA News

The D'Hanis Chapter of Young Homemakers held a joint meeting Nov. 8 along with the Chapter of Future Homemakers of America. Rose Ann Hernandez called the meeting to order and Dolores read the minutes from the last meeting. Following the opening ceremonies, the members of both organizations enjoyed a program given by a group of seven ladies from a hair design school in San Antonio.

The illustration consisted of the process in fixing three different hair styles and also how to apply make-up. Questions which anyone had about their hair or make-up were then answered and discussed.

The closing ceremonies of the meeting were then held followed by refreshments of cake and punch.

Donny and a couple of culprits

Pet rats take big bite out of ten dollar bill

This is a ratty story, but Donny Firsching and his family sure liked it when it appeared in the Houston Post--and so did some relatives here in Hondo.

According to the Post, "11-year-old Donny isn't old enough to worry about inflation eating away at his money--but it got gobbled up just the same."

Last summer Donny worked for his Uncle Ray Jennings at the Raye Theater in Hondo to earn a $10 bill. He was proud of that bill and so were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. (Buster) Crow and his mother, the former Ruthie Crow of Hondo.

But recently Donny returned home and couldn't find the $10 bill he had worked so hard to earn. Then he remembered he had put the bill next to a cage holding his two pet rats. Yep, that's right. The rats had enjoyed a $5 meal for they had managed to eat half the ten.

Mrs. Firsching took the rats' leftovers to the bank where negotiations with local governments failed. She then mailed what was left to Washington, and last week a U. S. Treasury Department letter arrived with a check for $10 as a replacement.

And you can bet your last buck Donny makes sure it stays out of reach of his two friends with the expensive appetites.

Board changes meeting time

The Board of Trustees, Hondo Public Library, met Tuesday night, November 21, at the library to discuss various activities now in progress. Present were Sally Brucks, chairman; Nancy Buescher, Virginia Clift, Lottie Maw, Librarian; and Ina Mansell, secretary.

It was decided that there would be no board meeting until after the Holidays, unless some emergency makes necessary a called meeting. Time of ensuing board meetings was changed from 8 p. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Members voted to invite Mrs. Gladys Knowles, 1709 17th St., to join the board to fill an existing vacancy.

Mrs. Maw reported that donations to the library continue to be excellent. Mrs. Mansell read minutes of last meeting and the financial report.

One of the many contributors to the library is Lori Fridle, who brought in 17 Easy books. A few of these titles are "Part-time Dog" by Jane Thayer, "One Kitten for Kim" by Adelaide Holt, "Petunia" by Roger Duvoisin, "Alexander and the Magic Mouse" by Martha Sanders, "The Little House" by Virginia Lee Burton, "Mr. Wiloughby's Christmas Tree" by Robert Barry and many others. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd H. Lillard added to our paperback collection and also gave some magazines and a book "The Emergence of Man" by John E. Meffer.

Magazines were received from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reilly, Mrs. Harold Reiber and Inez Short. Paperbacks were donated by Mrs. G. L. Thallman.

Other contributors were Mrs. Pat Jacoby, magazines and paperbacks, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buescher, magazines, paperbacks and several copies of Wall Street Journal.

The library is still urging its readers to return their overdue books. The book-drop is easily available at any hour, even if library is not open. Regular library hours are 11:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Here in Hondo

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Braden and sons, Jesse, Scott and Tony, were Thanksgiving weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Braden and other relatives.

On Thanksgiving Day Col. and Mrs. R. G. Shaw and children were hosts to the Annual Turkey Day dinner in their home in San Antonio. Those present were: the Gordon Bradens of Richardson, the Steve Hartmanns of College Station, the Tom Jungmans of Castroville, the Jimmy Rogers and the G. O. Bradens, all of Hondo.

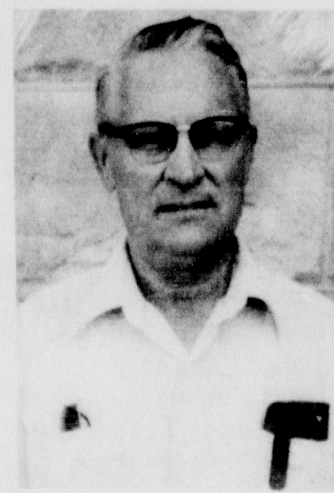

Mrs. Ruth Smith had as her Thanksgiving guests her sister, Miss Essie Edwards and Miss Henrietta Kimbrough of Dallas.

Mrs. Steve Hartmann and little son, Edward, of College Station were recent visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Braden, while Steve was on a field tour in west Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bendele had as house guests during the Thanksgiving holidays Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Johnson and two children from Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mueck and two daughters from Waco and Mrs. Sophie Ehler from Cameron.

The W. K. Johnsons also visited with her parents in Laredo. Also, Mr. and Mrs. John Klasek of Floresville, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Schmidt and sons of San Antonio.

Sam Meyer takes new duties

R. W. (Sam) Meyer, vice president of Uvalde Production Credit Association, has been assigned duties of vice president and appraiser for the farm loan organization.

Meyer has been manager of the PCA Hondo office since February 1, 1942. He will assume his duties as Appraiser December 1.

In his capacity as real estate appraiser, Meyer will be responsible for appraising all of the real estate in which production credit has an interest. A graduate of Texas A&M College's appraisal seminar, Meyer has been doing part time appraisal work for the past eight years in connection with his position as manager of the Hondo office.

Lillards to 'retire'

Eleven years of living in Hondo ends with regrets for the Floyd H. Lillards come December 15 when they head for a new home in Hemet, California.

Lillard, who has been associated with Medina Agriculture Products as treasurer and office manager for the past 11 years, will be "retiring" so to speak.

Actually, he will still be associated with Medina and plans an opening up a distributorship in Southern California with the main emphasis on Medina products.

The Lillards came to Hondo in June 1961 and Medina began production sometime later that year. "We have enjoyed our stay here," he said last week in announcing the move, "and feel Hondo has some very nice people and a wonderful climate, and we regret leaving."

But ... and this is the big but in the story ... the Lillards want to move nearer to their children and grandchildren, so it is Hemet, California here they come.

"Hemet is located about 60 miles east of Los Angeles," said Lillard, who is a strong "advocate" of Medina Agriculture Products and the county after which they were named. "And I'll be coming back from time to time to board meetings and other conferences."

Ed Zerr, a native of the local area, will assume the duties of office manager and treasurer of the company following the December 15 stockholders and directors meeting.

Devine stuns Ro-Hawks

If you believe in magic and elves and Santa Claus, then you believe that a bi-district contender can score five times in seven plays on a wet surface at a strange stadium.

Between an elfin grin on the face of Randall Kendrick, the magic of Paul Jette's passing, and Coach Paul Jette's ho-ho-ho after the game, the Randolph Ro-Hawks are now true believers.

The Warhorses capitalized on four fumbles and two pass interceptions on the Ro-Hawks, and added fine defensive efforts to thwart several Randolph scoring threats during their 34-0 rout over Randolph of San Antonio.

Randall Kendrick started the Devine circus when, four plays after a Randolph fumble at the Devine four-yard line, he eluded a pair of defenders and outraced the rest, 75 yards to a touchdown.

Stunned but determined, the Ro-Hawks returned the kickoff 26 yards to start over. But quarterback Joey DeQuinzio fumbled and Dennis Wutske of Devine was there, at the Ro-Hawk 38. Three plays later, Paul Jette hit Mike Outlaw for a 16-yard touchdown pass.

Once again, Randolph began to move. DeQuinzio hit flanker Lee Akers, but Akers fumbled at the Devine 49, and Ken Allen pounced on the ball.

Jette passed complete to Robert Hundley at the Ro-Hawk 35, and Hundley ran ten more yards before being met by a tackler. But he made a full turn to rid himself of the defender, and went in for the score. Rocky White added the extra point once again.

KENDRICK MAKES DEFENSIVE PLAYS, TOO

... as he closes in on Ro-Hawk ball carrier as #64 David Hundley, #10 Robert Hundley, #52 David Ciavarra, and #44 Ken Allen come to his aid.

D'Hanis drops bi-district tilt, 20-6

The D'Hanis Cowboys lost in their bid for bi-district Saturday night in San Marcos as they met the Chilton Pirates.

The Pirates took a half-time lead of 14-0, then turned back a D'Hanis threat in the third quarter which might have tied the game, and added a late score of their own to take home a 20-6 victory.

The Cowboys, hampered by a Chilton line which shut off the running attacks of Spencer Burrell, turned to the passing game, but could not gain the key completions.

Ironically, it was a scrambling Bobby Joe Rothe who was the leading ground gainer for the Cowboys during the frustrating evening.

field touchdown run, then added his second kick to make it 14-0 with 5:54 left in the half.

After halftime, the Cowboys recovered a McGee fumble at the Pirate 26-yard line. From there they drove in to score, with Spencer Burrell providing the last 14 yards in two plays, scoring from the four. A fake kick conversion resulted in an incomplete pass, and Chilton led 14-6 with 7:50 remaining in the quarter.

Another Chilton fumble, this time on their own 46, led D'Hanis to another sustained drive. The Cowboys moved to the Chilton five, but with all receivers covered, Bobby Joe Rothe was forced down for a 10-yard loss, and a fourth down incompletion put the ball back into Pirate hands.

Jack Landrum put the game away in the final quarter as he took an end-around for 13 yards to score with 5:57 remaining in the game. This time, the extra point kick was blocked, and the score was to remain 20-6.

Chilton will meet Skidmore-Tyran for regional this week.

Tigers outscore Bandera 34-27

The Bandera Bulldogs battled out of a deep hole to twice tie their Class A bi-district game against Brackettville, but the Tigers proved tough in the clutch and took home a 34-27 win, to advance in the playoffs.

In the Saturday night game at Barry Field, the Tigers gained an early lead of 21-0 in the first quarter, thanks to two touchdown runs of 71, then three yards by Joe Rose. Rose also hit Mario Jaso for another touchdown through the air before Jennings fired a scoring pass to Gary Quarrels, then kicked his own extra point to put the Bulldogs on the scoreboard.

Jennings and Bandera owned the second period as he ran the ball over from the five, then the one-yard line, and kicked the score up to a 21-21 tie.

After halftime, Rose of the Tigers once again put the ball in the end zone on a three-yard run, but the Goodloe kick was no good, and Brackett led 27-21 after three quarters.

Early in the final stanza, Jennings brought Bandera back with a five-yard touchdown run and a chance to take the lead, but he never got a kick away as a high snap robbed the Bulldogs of the opportunity. Once again, the game was deadlocked.

The Tigers' Goodloe redeemed his errant kick with a 41-yard run to the final score of the night, then kicked for the point to win 34-27.

The Tigers will vie for the Regional championship with the Falls City Beavers this week.

Uvalde to play in SA

The Uvalde Coyotes blanked their second post-season opponent last Friday night in San Marcos as they handed West Columbia a convincing 28-0 defeat. The week before, they had shut out East Zone 14-AAA champion Cuero to win district.

Friday night, the Coyotes will journey to San Antonio's Harlandale Stadium to meet Gregory-Portland for the Quarterfinals.

The game is to be played at 8 p.m. Friday against the 1971 finalists, who downed Falfurrias 49-0 to gain the quarterfinals.

Harmon Pro Forecast

KANSAS CITY 24 DENVER 17

Another AFC Western re-match ... Chiefs beat Broncos, 45-24, first week in October, but K.C. hasn't exactly set world on fire since ... Chiefs will be happy with 7-point win.

MINNESOTA 23 CHICAGO 14

Vikings haven't forgotten earlier 3-point loss to Bears ... Chicago controlled ball entire first half. Again, Bobby Douglass' running will give Vike defense real problems.

PITTSBURGH 27 CLEVELAND 20

With just three games left, this AFC Central clash is all-important to both Steelers and Browns. Cleveland upset Pittsburgh two weeks ago on last minute field goal.

WASHINGTON 31 PHILADELPHIA 6

George Allen's offense, led by Billy Kilmer and Larry Brown, will roll ... Crunch Bunch will throttle Eagles. Skins blanked Eagles earlier, 14-0. 25 is spread this time.

DALLAS 28 ST. LOUIS 13

Cowboys dropped behind Skins in NFC Eastern chase. Both should qualify for play-offs, one as champion, other as runner-up team. Dallas beat St. Louis 3 weeks ago, 33-24.

N. Y. JETS 27 NEW ORLEANS 10

Jets fighting to be "wild-card" team in AFC play-offs ... another loss with just two games to play after Sunday would kill any chance. Saints to lose by 17.

MONDAY, DEC. 4

SAN FRANCISCO .. 30 LOS ANGELES 27

L. A. bombed San Fran earlier, 31-7. Rams have always handled John Brodie-led 49er team. However, this could be a Steve Spurrier-led 49er team. San Francisco favored at home.

Won 10, lost 3, two weeks ago, so the average crept just a little higher. It's an even .730 off totals of 92 right, 34 wrong, and 4 ties, thru Monday, November 20th.
